

Nexxa Revocation of Consent API

Ongoing Support for Evolving Compliance Needs

New service API enables seamless consumer opt-out enforcement across all communication channels.

Overview

As consumer privacy regulations continue to evolve, Nexxa offers tools designed to help organizations respond effectively. Our Revocation of Consent API is a new add-on within Nexxa's Compliance Suite, developed to support enterprise efforts to manage consumer opt-out requests across telemarketing and SMS channels.

Why It Matters

Staying informed and responsive to changes in consent is critical to maintaining compliant and customer-respectful outreach practices.

With Nexxa, organizations can:

- Support Brand Risk Mitigation. Reduce exposure by aligning opt-out handling with emerging regulatory expectations.
- Enable Responsible Engagement. Honor consumer preferences across key contact channels.
- Enhance Operational Readiness. Support teams with tools that help maintain compliance without disrupting workflows.

Key Features

- 7-Day Recurring Scrub Cycles. Scheduled cycles every 7 days to help identify and flag new revocation requests for further handling.
- Developer-Friendly API. Integrates with existing systems to help support compliant contact management.
- Cross-Channel Application Support. Designed to apply across multiple communication channels, including telemarketing and SMS.
- Insight-Driven Reporting. Provides data that may support internal compliance monitoring and strategy refinement.
